

Education in Israel: Three Fast Facts

- Israel's literacy rate (97.1%) is the highest in the Middle East.
- The percentage of girls who pass matric is higher among Christian Arabs than Jewish Arab girls and the figure is also higher than French girls in France.
- Differing levels of achievement amongst the various sectors of Israeli society is a relative phenomenon, and not predetermined by whether or not one is Jewish.